WORLD DAY OF PRAYER SCOTLAND

Who Is My Elizabeth?

Mary did not face an uncertain future entirely on her own. She went to Elizabeth — someone she trusted, who welcomed her, listened to her and helped her find strength.

All of us need people with whom we can be ourselves. Use this private space to reflect on the people and relationships that help you feel heard, valued and supported.

Who listens to me without immediately judging me?

Who helps me think rather than telling me what to think?

Who encourages me to be myself?

People I Can Trust

Who could I contact when things are difficult?

What makes someone a safe person to talk to?

For whom could I be an Elizabeth?

Is there someone I could listen to, encourage, believe in or simply be alongside — without trying to fix everything for them?

A short prayer

God of welcome, thank you for people who listen and make space for us. Help me recognise the people I can trust, and teach me how to offer kindness, attention and encouragement to others. Amen.

My One Thing

The world can feel overwhelming. None of us can respond to everything — but that does not mean we are powerless.

Think about everything you have explored through World Day of Prayer. What is the one issue, hope or concern that you do not want simply to forget?

One thing I care deeply about:

One thing I want to understand better:

One person, community or organisation I could listen to:

My final thought from WDP 2027:

From Prayer to Action

One action I could take:

One prayer I want to keep praying:

MY 2027 PRAYERFUL ACTION PLEDGE

I will not simply pray about...

I will also...

A prayer for the journey

God of Hannah, Mary and Elizabeth, help me to be honest about what I feel, brave enough to ask questions, wise enough to listen and hopeful enough to act. Show me where love is needed, where injustice should be challenged and where I can help peace grow. Remind me that small actions matter, that I am connected with people around the world, and that prayer can shape the way I live. Amen.
